

Well... it's still a website.

About:

This is my old, faithful, and never forgotten website for over 20 years. First I ever made and still going. Was once a quake clan, then a place where I got emo and posted angry ramblings, then I tried making some community stuff before Facebook came in and took that scene over. Now we're here. Enjoy.

1-16-2022 - Lisa has a website!

Posted by: Lisa

Hello!

I have moved to my own bookstack instance lisastuff.com and all thanks to my super cool dad! My old shelf is now gone, and for now on I will be posting over on lisastuff.com!

11-4-2021 - Still kicking.

Not much to say as far as updates are concerned. Lisa wants her own bookstack instance all to herself with integrated discord login so that's a thing. I'm still pretending I'll have the time someday to write about and maybe record video for the 128947129348712394 topics that have run through my head. Some day it'll happen...

3-27-2021 - Lisa takes over.

Posted by: Ed

So my oldest daughter (Lisa/13) asked for a place to put her art and stuff. Now she has it. It's not really a takeover, but she's posting a hell of a lot more than I normally do. So it might as well be.

You can see her stuff here.

3-26-2021 - Goodbye forums!

You've reached Groundtactics.com. My personal website that started from a quake clan, evolved into some forums and is now neither. It's now a wiki where I dump my projects and other crap.

That's it for now. Not much else to say.
